Jacqui is a Senior Associate at Tottle Partners, having joined the firm in 2017. She graduated from the University of Western Australia with a Bachelor of Laws and a Bachelor of Arts in 2008 and was admitted to practice in Western Australia in 2009.

Jacqui has worked in insurance law for the past 10 years and specialises in defending personal injury claims made pursuant to the Motor Vehicle (Third Party Insurance) Act.

Jacqui's work predominantly involves:

- providing detailed assessment and advice to clients on the liability and quantum aspects of a variety of claims, including claims by catastrophically injured plaintiffs, minor personal injury claims, dependency claims made pursuant to the Fatal Accidents Act and pure mental harm claims
- advising clients on indemnity and recovery issues
- applying relevant legislation and legal authorities
- day to day conduct of files, including providing recommendations to the client in respect to management of the claim and future conduct
- representing the client at informal settlement negotiations and at court ordered conferences
- appearing for the client at the District Court of WA on the hearing of interlocutory applications, directions hearings and compromise application hearings
- representing the client at taxation of costs
- preparing matters for trial and assisting counsel at trial
- liaising with a variety of medical and non-medical experts

Jacqui is a member of the Australian Insurance Lawyers Association and the Law Society of Western Australia. .
